PARTNER WITH NCVLI IN 2026

A section 501(c)(3) nonprofit legal education and advocacy organization based at Lewis & Clark Law School in Portland, Oregon, the National Crime Victim Law Institute (NCVLI) promotes comprehensive and enforceable legal rights for crime victims in every case through victim-centered legal advocacy, education, and resources.

NCVLI, along with their partners and supporters, work to ensure victims have access to experienced attorneys who help protect their rights.

NCVLI fights to empower crime victims.

NCVLI envisions a justice system in which every crime victim has comprehensive and meaningful legal rights; access to a trained victims' rights attorney at no cost; and rights that are recognized and enforced.

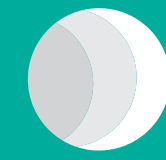

With your partnership and support, we'll strengthen our efforts to provide critical resources to help crime victims assert their rights.

Their voices will be heard. Their rights will be respected and honored.

As an annual sponsor, you will connect with NCVLI's national audience of more than 10,000 individuals, businesses and organizations.

EVENTS

NCVLI hosts the Crime Victim Law Conference each year.

2026 Crime Victim Law Conference
May 27-29, 2026

LEARN MORE

Last year's Conference attendees represented 32 states, Washington D.C., and US Virgin Islands.

2026 Crime Victim Law Conference

NCVLI's annual Crime Victim Law Conference is the only national conference focused on Victim Law, an emerging area of law that includes victims' rights enforcement in criminal cases.

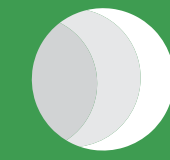

The Conference's continuing legal education (CLE) programming integrates a multi-disciplinary approach to understanding the impact of law, rights, and the justice system on crime victims. Participants include leading victims' rights experts who draft rights enforcement policy and litigate at all levels throughout the country.

Your sponsorship provides critical support in bringing this one-of-a-kind Conference to life.

In recent years, this event has gathered hundreds of attorneys, advocates, judges, military personnel, mental health professionals, law enforcement, program managers, academics, students and survivors from across the country and around the world.

Participants come together to learn, engage, and plan the future of victims' rights work. The Conference provides opportunities to forge relationships with a diverse group of individuals dedicated to victim-centered outcomes and solutions.

Last year, more than 250 participants attended the Conference in person and virtually. Attendees who completed a survey were very pleased with the event, with 100% of them stating that they would recommend the event to others and 100% indicated that the information received will help them better serve crime victims.

TRAINING & RESOURCES

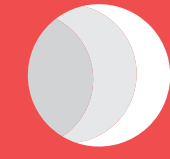

National Alliance of Victims' Rights Attorneys & Advocates

NCVLI's membership alliance, the National Alliance of Victims' Rights Attorneys & Advocates (NAVRA), aims to increase the availability of expert services for crime victims through increased communication and coordination of attorneys and advocates; a searchable database of sample motions, amicus curiae briefs, and other resources; and a pro bono portal to facilitate pro or low bono representation of crime victims seeking help with rights enforcement.

NAVRA also strives to advance the professional development of its members by offering affordable CLE trainings throughout the year. Membership is open to attorneys, victim advocates, allied professionals working with crime victims, crime victims, law students, and others interested in legal developments that affect crime victims.

INVESTING IN VICTIMS

Through litigation, education and public policy, the National Crime Victim Law Institute is uplifting victims' voices, working to uphold their rights, and ensuring they receive the support and resources they need. NCVLI works in all 50 states, the District of Columbia, and military, tribal and federal systems through training, technical assistance, and partnerships.

In the last year, with your sponsorship and partnership support, NCVLI:

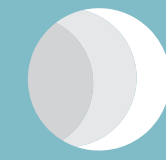

- Provided regular trainings on victims' rights to victim service professionals
- Provided expert legal technical assistance to legal practitioners
- Filed amicus curiae briefs in state and federal cases
- Partnered to enhance access to legal services for BIPOC victims
- Launched an online victims' rights advice portal
- Continued a project to increase access to rights enforcement legal services for victims with disabilities

With more support, NCVLI can do even more to help crime victims get justice.

“Be the crucial difference. Stand with us to empower victims by affirming their rights and connecting them directly to vital support systems.”

Meg Garvin, MA, JD, Mst | Executive Director
